He saved lives in Bhiwandi, pothole crash claimed his

Danish Azmi
THANE

A 31-year-old Thane Disaster Response Force (TDRF) member, who had recently taken part in rescue operations after the Kohinoor building collapse in Bhiwandi, died after his motorcycle hit a pothole on the Mumbai-Nashik Highway near Shahapur on Monday morning.

The deceased, identified as Vikas Lahu Gore, was a resident of Bamane village on the Shahapur-Sarlambe Road. He is survived by his wife Kavita and twin daughters.

The National Highways authority said the pothole at the accident site had since been repaired and three teams were filling potholes daily along a 60km stretch.

"However, continuous heavy rainfall and the movement of heavy vehicles are causing new potholes to develop," said Shashank Adke of the Project Implementation Unit, Nashik, National Highways.

According to police and local sources, Gore was travelling to work when the accident occurred on the Bharangi River bridge. Preliminary information suggested that he failed to spot a deep pothole on the rain-soaked highway, lost control of his motorcycle and was thrown onto the road before crashing into the central divider.

Gore suffered severe injuries, including critical trauma to his lower body. Passers-by and local residents took him to Shahapur Sub-District Hospital, where doctors declared him dead during treatment.

TDRF officer Sachin Dubey described Gore as one of the force's dedicated rescuers. He said Gore had been associated with the Disaster Response Force since 2019 and became a permanent member in 2024.

The accident has renewed scrutiny of the condition of the Mumbai-Nashik Highway. Residents alleged that road maintenance authorities had failed to carry out timely repairs despite repeated complaints. Expressing anger over the death of an emergency responder, they demanded immediate repairs and accountability.

Gore's wife Kavita said one of their twin daughters was unwell and her husband assured her that he would return from duty and take the child to hospital. One of his classmates said, "Whenever there was an emergency, he would be among the first to respond. Ironically, a man who rescued so many people became a victim of administrative negligence."

Dog trainer dies in trek mishap

Rescue op underway

A 22-year-old dog trainer died after allegedly slipping into a deep gorge while trekking to KP Waterfall in Khalapur on Sunday evening. His body was recovered around 2.30am on Monday following an overnight rescue operation in heavy rain and difficult terrain by Khopoli Police, HELP Foundation volunteers and local youths.

The deceased, identified as Abhishek Hariram Kushwaha, a resident of Dhokali Naka in Thane (West), had travelled with friends Sahil Harijan, 17, Deva Gaydhankar, 22, and Sahil Sawant, 19, to the popular monsoon trekking spot.

According to police, the group was trekking between Zenith Waterfall and KP Waterfall at around 7pm when Kushwaha allegedly lost his footing. His companions searched for him for several hours but failed to locate him in the darkness. Without torches or rescue equipment, they reached Zenith Thakurwadi around 11.30pm and alerted local residents.

Villagers informed the HELP Foundation and Khopoli police, who launched a search operation. After questioning the trekkers and examining mobile phone videos, rescuers concluded Kushwaha had fallen into the gorge.

Despite heavy rain, dense vegetation, slippery slopes and poor visibility, the teams continued searching through the night. Kushwaha was found in the gorge around 2.30am but had succumbed to his injuries. His body was retrieved using ropes and a bucket stretcher before being taken to Khopoli Municipal Council Hospital.

Police inspector Sachin Hire said the operation required exceptional coordination due to the challenging conditions. HELP Foundation founder Gurunath Sathelkar said volunteers continued despite the risks, hoping the trekker could still be rescued.

Overnight rains cripple Bhiwandi

FPJ News Service
BHIWANDI

Torrential overnight rain brought Bhiwandi to a standstill on Monday, flooding low-lying areas, disrupting traffic and pushing the Kamwari River above the danger mark.

The downpour, which began late Sunday night, inundated Nadi Naka, Eidgah Road, MHADA Colony, Bandar Mohalla, Khadipar and Tandel Mohalla. Water entered several houses, damaged belongings and forced some residents to move to safer places.

A strong current in the Kamwari River submerged vehicles parked near the riverfront. A video of a mini bus being swept away by the swollen river circulated widely on social media.

Commercial activity was also hit as waterlogging affected the main vegetable market and Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj Chowk. Traders and vegetable vendors reported losses, while customers faced difficulty accessing submerged market areas.

Waist-deep water in Eidgah stranded women, children and senior citizens, while impassable roads caused traffic congestion.

The local administration alerted residents in vulnerable riverbank areas and deployed disaster management and civic teams for round-the-clock monitoring. The India Meteorological Department forecast further heavy rain and advised citizens to avoid unnecessary travel and stay away from rivers, streams and overflowing drains.

₹100 cr from bars: ED gets nod to prosecute Anil Deshmukh

Charul Shah Joshi
MUMBAI

The Enforcement Directorate (ED), on Monday, submitted a letter granting permission to prosecute former home minister Anil Deshmukh for alleged money laundering. The agency obtained the approval from the Governor of Maharashtra on May 21. The letter conveying this was submitted before the special court by ED prosecutor Sunil Gonsalves.

The case dates back to 2021, when former Mumbai Commissioner of Police Param Bir Singh, in a letter to then chief minister Uddhav Thackeray, alleged that Deshmukh had instructed certain police officers, including now incarcerated Sachin Vaze, to collect ₹100 crore every month from bars and restaurants in the city.

Thereafter, CBI had on April 21, 2021, registered a case against Deshmukh and others.

After CBI, ED too had initiated a probe into money laundering wherein it said that Vaze had collected ₹4.70 crore from owners of orchestra bars between December 2020 and January 2021. The funds were allegedly handed over to Deshmukh through his personal assistant Kundan Shinde.

No anticipatory bail for nat'l footballer in fake degree case

MUMBAI

A sessions court has rejected the anticipatory bail plea of 27-year-old national-level footballer Sukhdev Patil, accused of securing a Central government auditor's job by submitting a fake BCom degree certificate.

The court said Patil's custodial interrogation was necessary to determine how he obtained the allegedly forged certificate.

According to the prosecution, Patil, who was a goalkeeper for India, was appointed as an auditor under the sports quota in the office of the Principal Accountant General (Audit-I), Mumbai. During verification, the office allegedly found that the BCom degree certificate submitted by him was fake.

During verification, the Audit-I office allegedly found the BCom degree submitted by the goalkeeper was fake

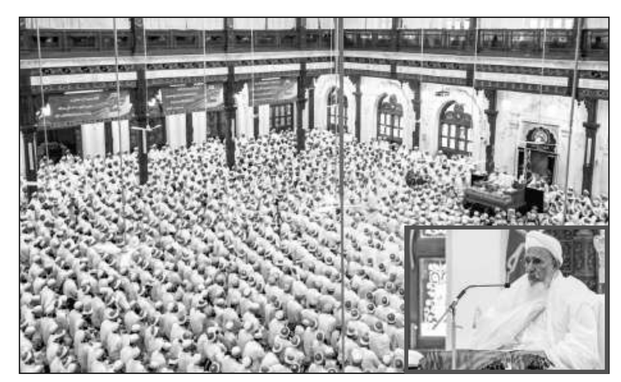
"The applicant prima facie submitted the said BCom degree certificate and obtained a Central Government job. Thus, the nature of the offence is very serious," the court observed.

Patil approached the court after the Azad Maidan police booked him for allegedly submitting the fake degree. He claimed that he had completed an admission form on Arni University's website, paid the fees and appeared for the examination.

His lawyer argued that Patil may have been a victim of a racket involved in issuing fake certificates.

Opposing the plea, prosecutor Vijay Malankar said Patil had submitted a fake BCom degree certificate and marksheet to obtain the auditor's post. When the documents were sent to the university for verification, it reportedly informed the authorities that Patil had never taken admission and that his identity details and other documents were fake.

Syedna's Chehlum message: There's no success shortcut



FPJ News Service
MUMBAI

Around 70,000 Dawoodi Bohras gathered at Saifee Masjid in Bhendi Bazar on Monday to listen to their 53rd spiritual leader, Syedna Mufaddal Saifuddin, who called for disciplined living.

Delivering the sermon marking Chehlum, the 40th day after the martyrdom of Imam Husain, the grandson of Prophet Mohammed, at Karbala in present-day Iraq, the head of the worldwide Dawoodi Bohra community called upon community members to embrace hard work in every aspect of life.

Syedna emphasised that discipline should guide every sphere of life, including education, the upbringing of children, and the pursuit of an honest livelihood. He said these values form the foundation of purposeful lives and strong families.

According to the community, nearly 40,000 attendees were Mumbai residents, while about 30,000 had travelled from different parts of the world to participate in the religious observance.

"Syedna's words on discipline made me think about how I approach my studies," said 15-year-old Batul Abbas. "He reminded us that hard work is not just about achieving results; it is about building character. I am leaving today with a clearer sense of how I want to discipline my own routine, whether it is my studies or how I spend my time outside school."

Husain Dhoondia, a 40-year-old Mumbai-based manufacturer of fumigation and scientific devices, said the sermon reinforced the importance of perseverance. "There is no shortcut to success, only hard work," he said.
